Daniel Ducrey appointed as new CEO of Mobimo

Lucerne, 25 October 2018 - The Board of Directors of Mobimo Holding AG has appointed Daniel Ducrey as the new CEO of Mobimo. He will succeed Christoph Caviezel in April 2019. During an extensive selection process, the Board of Directors concluded that Daniel Ducrey's convincing personality, comprehensive track record in the national and international real estate industry, make him an ideal candidate for this position.

Daniel Ducrey will join the company on 1 March 2019 and will acquaint himself to the new role until taking over as CEO on 2 April 2019, the day after the Annual General Meeting.

The 54-year-old Daniel Ducrey is a graduated architect and began his professional career as a project manager at a general contractor. After 10 years in various management positions at Losinger Construction AG, he joined the Steiner Group Executive Board in 2009. Following the successful reorganization of the company's activities in Western Switzerland, he set up a subsidiary in India and served as CEO of the Steiner Group from 2015 to mid-2018.

Beatrice Koch proposed for election to the Board of Directors

Ms. Beatrice Koch (50) is proposed for election to the Board of Directors. Until mid-2018, Ms. Koch was an auditor and partner of Ernst & Young and was responsible, among other things, for numerous real estate mandates. In recent years, as a member of the management board of the audit department, she has also worked on key topics such as digitization, productivity, change management, personnel development and diversity. She is to replace Wilhelm Hansen as a member of the Audit Committee, who, as already communicated, will not be standing for re-election after 11 years on the Board of Directors of Mobimo due to his age. As announced at the last Annual General Meeting on 27 March 2018, Christoph Caviezel will be proposed for election to the Board of Directors at the Annual General Meeting on 2 April 2019.
